Tung Kang Urged To Widen Scope Of Inquiry

CITE PURCHASES

Unneeded Supplies Ordered By Grafters, Charge

BY JOSEF W. HALL
Staff Correspondent of The China Press

Peking, March 23.—The Peking representatives of various public spirited organisations throughout the country are urgently insisting that the graft investigation now being conducted by Tung Kang, Minister of Justice, be extended to the railway administration, officials of which are accused of conniving with foreign firms for the purchase of large quantities of unneeded materials and supplies, in order to collect "squeeze" for themselves.

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Peking, March 20.—The popular body organised to support Mr. Tung Kang's investigation of the affairs of the Ministry of Finance has notified Mr. Tung that it is ready to take legal action against those members of the former Cabinet who were concerned in the short-term loans floated. It expresses the hope that Mr. Tung will not allow himself to be persuaded into accepting a compromise.

Peking, March 20.—As a result of a final proposal submitted to the President by Mr. Tung Kang regarding the investigation of short term loans President Hsu issued an order yesterday stating as the Chairman of the Committee had shown great zeal in the performance of his duties and the result of the investigation would be of national importance it was necessary for Mr. Tung to continue the investigation in close co-operation with the other members of the Committee. If the investigation proved that those responsible for the issue of the loans had been guilty of improper practices they would be dealt with in accordance with the laws of the country.

(From a Staff Correspondent)

Peking, March 23.—Dr. W. W. Yen, acting premier, has again announced his determination not to continue longer as head of the cabinet. The president also is again threatening to resign and it is the belief here that this time he will actually go through with it. The president feels gloomy over the failure of the lower Yangtsze tuchuns to repond to his appeals for assistance in solving the tangled political situation, and is convinced that he had better step out.

Lancashire Mill Men Deny Attempt To Influence India

(Reuter's Service)

Delhi, March 22.—The Legislative Assembly today heavily rejected the proposal to tax imported silk.

London, March 22.—An interesting position has been created by the Indian Legislative Assembly's refusal to vote supplies as a protest against the heavy military expenditure, especially the rejection of the proposal to increase the cotton import duty.

While the Times declares that the refusal will probably necessitate the reconsideration of Indian reforms, the Manchester Guardian, reflecting the views of cotton exporters to India, sympathises with the Assembly's action and declares that the only solution is Government borrowing, combined with retrenchment.

It is noteworthy that the amendment to retain the cotton import duty at 11 percent has led to a split in the Democratic Party of the Assembly, a section of which wished to fix the duty at 11½ percent.

In the course of the debate Sir Malcolm Hailey strongly denied that there had been any influence on the part of Lancashire and said that the Government had determined to have fiscal freedom in India at all costs.

New Activities Planned At Meeting Of Shanghai Post Of American Legion

Spirit Of Co-Operation With Like Organisations Here Reflected In Addresses At Gathering Last Night At American Club

Plans to recruit as members all American ex-service men and measures generally to expand the activities of the General Frederick Ward Post of the American Legion were outlined last night at an enthusiastic dinner meeting of the organisation which was held at the American Club. A big proportion of the seventy active members of the Post attended the affair at which Capt. W. I. Eisler was presiding officer.

Last night's dinner and meeting follows the recent election of men officers of the Post. Captain Eisler presided and all the newly named officers were present. Besides Captain Eisler, Post Commandant, these are: Lieut-Commander, Judge C. S. Franklin; Adjutant, Mr. J. T. Wright, American Vice-Consul; Treasurer, Mr. N. H. Ewing; Service Officer, Mr. E. E. Selph; Historian, Mr. F. A. Bowen; Employment Officer, Mr. Gardiner Crane; Sergeant at Arms, Mr. W. Can Buskirk and Chaplain, Mr. D. D. Leonard.

It was voted at last night's meeting to form an executive committee and this will be composed of Captain Eisler, Judge Franklin, and Messrs. Wright, Ewing and Selph.

To carry out plans for social activities a special committee was created at the meeting. This is to be headed by Mr. Crane as Chairman who is empowered to appoint other members. A committee appointed to set in motion plans to recruit new members is to be headed by Mr. George Bourne. This committee is to be particularly active for the period of a month when a report will be presented at a banquet that is to be held in April, probably April 20.

A united purpose to co-operate with other Shanghai organisations similar to the American legion and with American interests generally was reflected in the several eloquent addresses that were given at the conclusion of the dinner. Mr. Crane in particular who was one of the speakers struck a responsive chord when he urged that the Gen. Frederic Ward Post of the Legion should strive in every way to upbuild American institutions in Shanghai and this sentiment was enlarged upon by Judge Franklin and by Signal Sergeant Murphy who also spoke.

Captain Eisler who was the last speaker told something of the former history of the Post since it was organised in 1919 and he dwelt upon the importance of carrying into effect plans that had been outlined at the meeting.

CHURCH WOMEN SET PLANS AFOOT FOR AUXILIARY

Plans for the formation of a ladies auxiliary composed of ladies of the Community Church, were set afoot yesterday at a tea given at the Navy Y.M.C.A. The tea was arranged by the Rev. Luther Freeman, of Community Church, and was attended by about fifty ladies.

After a discussion the following officers were elected, Mrs. Lavers, president; Mrs. E. L. Healey, vice-president; Mrs. C. W. Harvey, secretary, and Mrs. Carlton Lacy, treasurer. These Ladies will work on organisation plans and a further meeting will be held a week from Thursday for the purpose of perfecting the organisation. The meeting will be held at the Navy "Y" and it is hoped that there will be a large attendance as it is the aim of the organisers to secure the assistance of all the ladies of the church for community service.

French Delegates To Future Parleys To Be Restricted

(Reuter's Service)

Paris, March 22.—A change in the Government's intentions as regards international meetings is contained in an announcement stating that in deference to the Allies' unanimous opinion, France will consent to be bound by the arrangements in which she participated in London and Cannes, but that from henceforth, the actions of the French delegates will be subject to parliamentary approval. The announcement added that this attitude was defined when Mr. Lloyd George asked M. Poincare to go to Genoa with a view to entering pledges on behalf of France.

London, March 22.—In the House of Commons today, replying to Sir Frederick Hall, Mr. L. E. M. S. ALL SHANGHAI PAYS RESPECT AT RITES FOR SIR EVERARD

Throng Attend Funeral Of British Consul General

SOLEMN SERVICE

S.V.C. And Navy Men Participate In Ceremonial

In the presence of a throng numbering all nationalities and stations the body of Sir Everard Fraser, K.C.M.G., British Consul-General who died last Tuesday morning, was lowered to its final resting place at Bubbling Well Cemetery yesterday afternoon.

The last rites for the departed official, simple in nature, were probably the most impressive ever conducted here and the hundreds gathered at church and graveside to render the last tribute constituted eloquent testimony as to the general high regard and genuine affection in which Sir Everard was held.

High Chinese officials, members of the Consular Body and of the staffs of the various Consulates, Municipal officials from both Settlements and representatives of all of the municipal departments were in attendance at Holy Trinity Cathedral at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon, when the first part of the funeral service was held. The Cathedral was filled, many standing, while in the compound the waiting escort of the Light Horse and troops of the Baden-Powell, Chinese and American Boy Scouts were drawn up in parade.

SERVICE IS SIMPLE

The church service was conducted by the Dean, the Very Reverend C. J. F. Symons, and followed the simple lines of the Book of Prayer. The full choir was in attendance, singing first the hymn "For All the Saints," which was followed by the "Contakion." After the prayers Mr. R. C. Young, the Cathedral organist, played the Dead March, the service concluding with the "De Profundis." During the ceremonial a guard of honor of four Boy Scouts stood with heads bowed over their staves about the flag draped coffin.

The coffin was borne from the Cathedral to the gate between a lane of Boy Scouts and was placed upon a black draped automobile hearse. A detachment of mounted Sikhs headed the cortege, while the troopers of the Light Horse fell in as escort to the hearse, proceeding along Kiangse to Nanking Road and thence Westward to the cemetery.

MANY AT CEMETERY

At the gateway to the cemetery the coffin was lowered to the awaiting truck by six sergeants of the S.V.C. and with the pall bearers—Colonel R. Marr Johnson, D.S.O., Judge Peter Grain, Capt. Ralph Eliot, C.B.E., R.N., Mr. A. Brooke Smith, Mr. E. C. Pearce, Mr. C. F. Garstin, Mr. J. F. Brenan and Mr. H. H. Fox, C.M.G.—on either side and the chief mourners, Consular, Government and Municipal officials and representatives following the body of Sir Everard moved slowly down the avenue to the grave between lines of volunteers. For several hundred yards outside the cemetery gate the road was flanked by Sikh police, rifles aslant, and within the grounds, besides lining the approach, the volunteers and men of the Royal Navy formed a huge hollow square about the grave. The military and the hundreds of mourning friends gathered for the final rites stood uncovered while Dean Symons intoned the last words of the ritual, assisted by the Sub-Dean, and while Sergeant-Major Hearne sounded the "Last Post," forming a picture of tremendous impressiveness.

MULTITUDE OF WREATHS

The floral offerings, many sent by officials and individuals from points throughout China, formed a colorful bank about the plot just Northeast of the Chapel where Sir Everard was laid to rest while many wreaths had to be placed along the avenue of approach, so great was their number.

Among those sending wreaths were the following: Lady Fraser and family, Sir Reilby Alston, H. M. Minister, and Lady Alston, Mr. R. H. Clive, Counsellor of Legation and Mrs. Clive, Admiral Maclach-

Chinese Get No Kick Out Of This Republic Stuff

By Elsie McCormick

WE doubt if any visitor to Peking within the last ten years has left the city without casting a few reluctant glances in the direction of the imperial tradition. Though the foreigner, especially if he comes from an alleged democracy himself, might feel a certain elation when he reads the words, "Republic of China" on a postage stamp, or when he is allowed to pass into the Purple City, cross the great white courtyards, and enter the red-columned throne room for the sum of thirty cents, big money, he is practically certain to decide at length that China lost as well as gained when she created her so-called republic. While he would not see the Empire reestablished, the thoughtful observer from the West realises that the country desperately needs a substitute for the semi-religious traditions which gave the imperial government its standing in the eyes of the people.

Oriental races have no natural flair for the republican form of government. Try to check off even the constitutional monarchies in Asia and you will find yourself looking at a blank page. The Asiatic can glorify a despotism with religious traditions of boundless magnitude, but a republic leaves him cold. Unlike his brother in the West, he finds it difficult to wax sentimental over the ship of state or the ballot box or the freedom of the masses. He needs a Son of Heaven to fire his imagination and to inspire his loyalty.

SENTIMENT LACKING

This lack of sentimental appeal in the republic is undoubtedly one of the chief reasons for its weakness. In the first place China achieved it too easily. If she had gone through the preliminary stages of fighting inch by inch for constitutional rights, of defying a King John or two on her plains of Runnymeade, of facing riots, exile, and bloodshed in each step toward a democratic form of government, China would probably feel a semi-religious reverence for the republican ideal. But she hasn't, and therefore she doesn't. The republic has few martyrs. Its form is distinctly non-Asiatic. It abolished a system that harmonised Heaven, the Emperor, and the people, without substituting any conception which to the Oriental mind would be remotely equal in grandeur.

How far in theory at least the old imperial government was from the usual Western conception of an Asiatic despotism is proved by a visit to Peking. The Emperor was regarded, not as an irresponsible ruler, but as a steward accountable to Heaven for the welfare of his people. He was reminded of his position by his yearly pilgrimage to the Temple of Heaven, where he made his sacrifices and rendered his report to Shang-ti, Supreme Ruler of the Universe. He was likewise kept in bounds by the covert presence in marble and tapestry of the tiger which symbolised divine wrath against unfaithful Emperors. Once a year he sat in the Hall of the Classics and expounded the writings of the sages. Once a year he made a pilgrimage to the Altar of Agriculture, and plowed three furrows with his own hand, while the Minister of Finance carried the whip and the Viceroy of Chihli Province scattered the seed.

SOME CEREMONY

Though other feasts and fasts throughout the year brought home to the Emperor his responsibility to his subjects, none quite equalled in significance the ceremony at the Temple of Heaven. A night of contemplation, fasting and prayer was followed at dawn by the prostration of the Emperor on the marble altar and his intercession to Heaven for the sins of his people. The simplicity of the ceremony and its terrific dramatic impressions had untold effect both on the Emperor and his subjects. It is hardly surprising that to the average Chinese the republican ideal seems barren and fruitless in contrast.

We are not attempting to argue for a return of imperialism. But we do believe that until the new system is spiritualised in a typically Oriental way, there will be small chance of unity or peace in China. A Westerner is content to look upon his government as a political expedient lightly dusted over with sentiment; a Chinese must harmonise it with his religious ideals and give it a high place in his conception of the universe. He demands religious symbolism and dramatic expression, neither of which the republic has achieved.

POMPOUS FARCE

Attempts to graft the imperial ideals and ceremonies on to the present system have not been conspicuously successful. Lacking the status of the Son of Heaven, Yuan Shih-k'ai's pilgrimage to the white marble altar took the form of a pompous farce, with the presence of the moving-picture operator as the crowning absurdity. No president has dared since to repeat the ceremony. This year the ancient Confucian worship was observed, with the Minister of the Interior officiating for the chief executive, assisted by the Minister of Education and other officials. All wore the costume of two thousand years ago, and followed a ritual chanted to the music of Confucius' own time. Though many of the participants wore the furtive smile of self-conscious play-actors, the ceremony as a whole went off far better than Yuan Shih-k'ai's attempt to impersonate the Son of Heaven. It may conceivably point the way to a more characteristic ritual of the Republic.

Just how the present government will get its spiritual background we cannot venture to say. We can point only to the lack; no Westerner can give a ready-made remedy for supplying it. But until the Republic becomes Orientalised, until it becomes as much a part of the Chinese cosmos as the government of the Imperial Steward, until it achieves ideals as lofty as those which built the Throne Hall of Supreme Peace, it cannot unify the nation or be a potent force in the lives of its people.

It is reported that he is really ill, but as his home is in Tientsin his arrival is interpreted in some quarters as showing that he intends to accept the Premiership. It is believed, however, that Dr. W. W. Yen will be requested to act as Premier for some time even in the event of General Pao being officially appointed to that post.

Within the last few days Mr. Chien Nung-hsun's name has also been mentioned in connection with the Premiership. Mr. Chien succeeded General Tuan Chih-jui as Premier in 1918.

REVISION OF REPARATION SCHEDULES RILES BERLIN

News Hits German Capital Like Bomb-Shell

ASK BUDGET CUT

"Severe And Humiliating" Says The Tageblatt

(Reuter's Service)

Paris, March 22.—The Reparations Commission's decisions include, that of the 1,450,000,000 gold marks in kind France shall receive 950,000,000 gold marks, and that the suspension of payments, temporarily permitted, will be considered by the Commission on May 31, when if the Commission is not satisfied with the efforts being made to meet the Instalments, it may demand the payment of overdue amounts within two weeks.

In addition to stipulating that any unpaid balances of 1921 and 1922 will be considered as a debt at 5 per cent. Interest, the Reparation Commission demands that Germany shall immediately draw up a scheme for increasing taxation and the 1922-23 budget with at least 60,000,000,000 paper marks reduction of expenditure.

Berlin, March 22.—The Reparations decision arrived here like a bombshell. The Foreign Affairs Committee was hastily adjourned and the Cabinet summoned. The Vossische Zeitung says that instead of alleviating Germany's finance, the decision has done the opposite.

The Deutsche Allgemeine declares that the decision is brimming over with unprecedented penalties.

The Vorwarts predicts unusual excitement, especially among workers.

The Berlin Tageblatt describes the demands as especially severe and humiliating.

SECRETARY ITO DENIES REPORTS FROM TSINTAU

Legation Man Says Japanese Do Not Countenance Outlawry

Charging that reports emanating from Tsingtau alleging support of kidnapping and banditry by Japanese in the neighborhood of Tsingtau and Kaomi are untrue, Chief Secretary Ito of the Japanese Legation yesterday at the Astor House, attributed the reports to two sources.

"The first is the group of Chinese and Japanese along the railway zone who fear the substitution of Japanese troops by a Chinese guard will mean danger to the holdings of these residents and the second is the Chinese Government, which is preparing an alibi in the event that their soldiers are not able to control the outlawry," said Mr. Ito.

The Chief Secretary is on his way to Tokio after service in Peking and went to Tsinanfu and Tsingtau to make a study of conditions in Shantung.

Mr. Ito admitted that there were organised bands of outlaws in Shantung who were working on the edge of the Leased Territory and the Railway Zone.

"There can be no fraternity between Japanese soldiers and these outlaws, however," he asserted," because the discipline in the Japanese Army is such that there is little possibility."

He also said that outrages on Shiao Kia Island can not be controlled by the Japanese as this locality is not within the territory policed by them.

Mr. Ito said that he had taken the matter up with General Yui, the Military Governor of Tsingtau and the Leased Territory and that the latter had produced figures showing that the number of robberies and murders attributable to organised outlaw bands had not increased.

The reports published in THE CHINA PRESS on Sunday last have prompted a searching investigation by Japanese authorities in Shantung and Mr. Ito's statement to a representative of this paper was made yesterday "in order that the Japanese side of the matter might be presented."

"If outlaws are armed with guns supplied with Japanese, they do not come from the army nor the government," said Mr. Ito. "I am at a loss to know where they get them unless they are smuggled into Tsingtau or along the Shantung Coast."

The Legation secretary said that many reports of outrages were current in Tsingtau on the eve of the transfer of Japanese interests to China.

"All sorts of statements are being made with no knowledge of the facts and little respect for the truth," he said. "The Japanese authorities are not giving their sanction to outlawry within the territory where they have jurisdiction.

"The world would condemn Japan for encroaching upon the sovereignty of China were she to go beyond these boundaries into territory where the robber bands have their headquarters."

Mr. Ito left yesterday afternoon for Hangchow and will return to Shanghai tomorrow evening. He is to sail on Saturday for Japan. Manager Hata of the Eastern News Agency will accompany the Legation Secretary to Tokio, where the latter will visit the Peace Exhibition.

Mr. Ito, before he was appointed to Peking to succeed Chief Secretary Tokagawa, was in the Japanese Diplomatic service in London and several European cities.

OTHER SMALLER FIRES

Another large fire occurred yesterday morning on Mingkuo road in the Chinese City. The Chinese City Brigade had a long fight before the fire was subdued, due chiefly to the high wind.

A silk stockings shop at 741 was the scene of a third fire yesterday, which spread through the upper stories to and including all shops between No. 741 and 779. Considerable damage to small property resulted. The whole blaze spread and was controlled within 25 minutes.

HANGCHOW COURT DECLINES TO TRY GIRL SCHOOL CASE

Further details were received yesterday in the case of the Hangchow Girls' School of Physical Culture in which a councillor of the Ministry of War, Wu Ping-yuan, has been charged by the school authorities with robbery and misconduct.

Despatches from Hangchow indicate that the procurate there has thrown the case out of its jurisdiction on the ground that the accused is a bona fide military man amendable only to the jurisdiction of a court martial, while the claim of $50,000 could only be tried, it is maintained, by a civil court.

Meanwhile mediation is going on between the parties through the good offices of one Colonel Yang, aide-de-camp in the first Chekiang Division, and a clerk of the Procurate named Chao Lien-yin. Wu Ping-yuan offers to settle the dispute by the payment of $10,000 provided he may have custody of a son claimed as his own and that of the school principal, while the latter demands $20,000 as well as fixed sum for the education of the child.

Mrs. Wu has had an interesting career, it is learned from other sources. She was one of the ardent advocates for suffrage for woman during the outbreak of the Revolution and was retained for sometime by Tutuh Chu Jui of Chekiang as an advisor to his administration.

Draft Constitution On National Parley Ready For Adoption

The third reading of the draft constitution of the National Affairs Conference was postponed yesterday to this afternoon on account of more amendments introduced by the delegates. The draft consists of 12 articles and aims to devise means of solving national problems through the organisation of eight public bodies, including the Provincial Assembly, the Educational Association, the Chambers of Commerce, the Agricultural Association, the Labor Union, the Bar Association, the Bankers' Association and the Press Association.

Each organisation is to send not more than three delegates to the conference. The formal opening will take place as soon as a majority of the public bodies sends their delegates to Shanghai. The conference is to last two months, but its time can be extended in case of necessity.

Peevish Children

SOME children are not ill yet never quite well. They either look pale and thin or they are peevish and irritable—and they object to Cod Liver Oil.

The best tonic you can give them is Marrow Phosphates. It is a real body builder. It makes rich red blood and its beneficial effects on children who outgrow their strength are noticeable in a very short time.

Improved Control

Some Contractors or Consultants might say they do not trouble about these "things" because their clients do not ask for them. How are the clients to know of them?

The Consultant or Contractor who presistently ignores improved methods of switching, shuts his eyes to a good part of the advantages of electric lighting.

Improved control is the order of the day, and we are fully alive to the fact.

ADVERSE REPORT ON TAX SCHEME STIRS CONGRESS

Harding And Aids Accused Of Favoring Wealthy

(China Press Service)

Washington, March 22.—Not for many years has a sensation emanated from a congressional body such as that with which the minority members of the Ways and Means Committee startled the whole United States by boldly arraigning President Harding and Secretary Mellon of the Treasury as being utterly subservient to the moneyed interests of the country to the detriment of the people at large. Bribery of world-wide scope is alleged.

This attack was not from Democratic sources since of the five signers of the report four were Republicans. The Democrat members of the Committee in the main voted for the majority report. The revenue bill was the point of attack and the minority allege that everything possible is being done by both the President and Treasury Secretary to save the "interests" from taxation while letting the people bear the fullest burden possible without any effort at amelioration.

The sales tax, advocated by both President and Secretary Mellon, comes in for sharpest criticism as it is stated to be only a means of letting the money powers escape their just contributions to governmental expenses. The report also attacks the bank loan provision for dealing with the bonus and advocates cash payments.

Were an effort to secure equitable taxation contemplated by the Government, the report charges, President Harding and Secretary Mellon, the latter a member of the moneyed class he is accused of protecting, would have recommended taxation of those who were best able to pay.

The minority appeals to the people to demand the enactment of a more drastic excess profits tax bill with specific exemption of those whose profits were under $500,000. The report also advocates the restoration of the five percent income tax surtax.

The Sikh after protests from the French detective, decided to take all three men to the police station and the French police were notified. Inspector Traissae came into the Settlement in response to the call and procured his operative's release.

EXPECT TO DOCK DAMAGED LINER THIS MORNING

Sakaki Maru, Sunk After Collision To Begin Discharging Cargo

The South Manchurian Railway liner Sakaki Maru, which sank in 16 feet of water in the Whangpoo Tuesday following a collision with the steamer Eastern Sailor, is expected to be brought up to the Whangpoo Wharf this morning and will begin discharging cargo preparatory to going into dock for repairs.

Tugs were busy yesterday getting the damaged vessel off the bank near Kajow Creek, on the Pootung side, where she had settled and officials of the company stated that they did not believe the cargo damage would be of great extent.

The stokehold, engineroom and part of the after hold constitute the flooded portion of the ship and it was stated by the officials that the fore hold seemed to be clear and it was thought that cargo there had not been injured to any extent.

The collision between the Sakaki and the Eastern Sailor occurred near the Wayside wharf Tuesday as the Japanese liner was pulling out for Dairen with 66 passengers and a full cargo aboard. The Eastern Sailor, which was slightly damaged by the crash, was coming up the river.

The New Engineering & Shipbuilding Works are conducting the salvage operations for the Sakaki.

PRESIDENT PLANS CONFERENCE TO OFFSET CHANG'S

(Da Tong News Bureau)

Peking, March 23.—To offset the Conference on National Affairs being proposed at Mukden by Marshal Chang Tso-lin, President Hsu is drafting a circular telegram, inviting the nation to organise a similar conference for the unification of the country. In the message, the chief executive will offer to retire from his post if the conference decides to select a man better fitted for the office.

The telegram is being drafted upon the suggestion of one of the advisors and will urge the provinces to elect their representatives to the conference at once to solve the many vexing problems that are now confronting the nation.

Fifty Houses Burn In Fire In Chapei

Firty straw thatched huts which housed hundreds of Chinese residents in the district just to the north of the boundary in Chapei were destroyed by fire Wednesday night and three cotton ginning establishments were seriously threatened when the gale carried the flames almost beyond control of the Hongkew division which answered the alarm. The Chapei brigade fighting from the north side of the fire gave invaluable assistance in subduing the blaze. The fire broke out just before midnight, when the gale was at its height. The flames spread rapidly through the flimsily constructed houses, and for a time it appeared that the whole district would be swept. Three hours of desperate work were required to extinguish the fire.

Republican Army Ready To Fight Provisional Gov't

(Reuter's Service)

London, March 22.—Referring to the Provisional Government's ban on the forthcoming convention of delegates of the Irish Republican Army, Commandant O'Connor, Director of Engineering of the Irish Republican Army declares that resolutions will be submitted to the convention on March 26, re-affirming the allegiance of the Army to the Republic and appointing an executive which will supremely control the Army. He declares that the convention will represent at least 80 percent of the Army and that the Army will be prepared to take the offensive against the Provisional Government even if at the elections the majority of the people support the latter.

Divorce Proceedings In Mixed Court Are Adjourned For Month

The case in which Mrs. Tsu Kwang-sz is suing her husband, Tsu Ping-shing, for divorce, Tls. 100,000 damages and the custody of their two children came up for hearing before Assessor Blackburn and Magistrate Kwan in the Mixed Court yesterday.

The petition is based on charges of cruelty and of bigamy, Mrs. Tsu alleging that her husband was married for a second time last November. In a counter claim the husband denied the bigamy charge, declaring that he took a concubine with his wife's knowledge. He asks for the restitution of conjugal rights and return of the children and for Tls. 5,000 damages because of the filing of the divorce suit.

Mr. K. E. Newman, appearing for the husband, stated that his client wished his wife to return to him and an adjournment of one month was ordered to enable the parties to come to an understanding if possible. Messrs. Wright and Ting and Mme. Rosemberg appear for the petitioner.

American Rowing Squad Temporarily Assigned For Regular Spring Training

Good Turn-Out Of Candidates Promise Well For U. S, Boats This Spring

Temporary assignments to shells by those in charge of the American rowing squad which is just about to enter hard river training for the annual spring regatta at Henli show that the Americans have a good sized squad out, composed of men who should put the United States on the local rowing map even more firmly than did their crews of last year when they cleaned up most everything but the eights.

The big boat this year promises better than ever before. The assignment of oars to the seats in the shell are nearly all selections from veteran oarsmen. It is felt that with proper training, they may take that premier event. The boat as temporarily allotted is strong enough to win. And there are several other men drilling in smaller shells who may sit in and make it even stronger.

The American temporary combinations follow:

FOR THE EIGHT

Erickson,	stroke;
Phillips,	No. 7;
Schlobohm,	No. 6;
Edwards,	No. 5;
Barnes,	No. 4;
Neprud,	No. 3;
Doughty,	No. 2;
Rehnborg,	bow.

FOR THE FOUR

Schmidt,	stroke;
Perry,	No. 3;
Flint,	No. 2;
Williams,	bow.

FOR THE PAIRS

Downs and Hale.
Dunn and Tatum.
Illium and Canda.
Whitcomb and Green.
Bodinghaus and Brown.

The list includes nearly all of last year's best oars and many new men who have taken to the preliminary training and promise to work up to big event class provided they stick to the serious training and condition themselves and absorb the finer points of rowing by regatta time.

The first combinations of course are temporary. For the eight Schmidt and Doughty might work in later; for the fours some of the more seasoned men from the eight might be used, and for the pairs a half dozen or more good combinations could be gotten up. All assignments as yet however are open and undetermined: Any man may make any boat he fancies, provided he gets into the real work of training and shows the needed class and style.

The American squad has been working out more or less for some little time in casual fashion. Their 30-mile hike from Henli last week marked the first real work of the season. The men who undertook that walk are now in condition again for rowing, and a regular program of training has been arranged for them.

Every day of the week will be utilised in the new schedule. Practices at noon will be held on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays, and at 5 p.m. on Tuesdays and Thursdays. On Saturdays and Sundays the squad will try out on the smooth waters at Henli. The first combinations as announced yesterday will be tried out for a starter, and the oarsmen changed around to the best advantage on their showing after real training begins.

BAER SAYS 'BUG' Baer: GINK FOWLER COULD BATTLE

He May Have Looked Bad, But His Tumbles Were Very Deceptive

BY 'BUGS' BAER

To Whom It Whoms:

Gink Fowler aint much. I admit that he could take my man like Grant took Richmond. Which was a four year's job.

One day Gink crutched into our kitchen and insisting on pressing his bloomers with my Persian chef's curling irons.

She tossed a platter of empty egg shells at him and knocked him for a Congressional junket.

Since then, Gink goes far and wide to avow our town, which is so tough that grass seed grows the other way and birds are afraid to fly over the city.

YOURS TILL HARRY GREBS EVERYTHING TOMS GIBBON HIM.

That reminiscences us that Gink was like lightning. He fell many times, but he never landed twice in the same place.

What a man! He could jab with his ears and parry with his nose.

He could have whipped Leonard and Kansas for breakfast, flattened Jeffries for dinner and knocked Dempsey cold for dessert.

Roughtown was so tough that Jack Dempsey was living in town five years and nobody knew that he had even arrived. One day the Mayor—now, there was one tough official—he was afraid of nothing in a bottle. Absolutely intrepid. He was so tough that he wore a celluloid collar and let the boys strike their matches on it.

Could Gink fight? That question makes us grow fatigued with ignorance.

Dempsey would have lasted just long enough to have been whipped by the flashlight before the bell.

Fred Fulton would have looked like a sponge salesman in no rounds and a fifth.

Benny Leonard would have lasted about as long as a soo, bubble on a porcupine's back.

Could he battle? Tom Gibbons and Harry Greb would have looked like Orphans of the Storm.

Battling Benedict would have been crashed for a row of Ampicos in one second on a slow watch.

Could he swat? He smacked Bill Brennan on the tongue and Bill's teeth flew around like popcorn in a red-hot frying pan.

He could fight.

Giant Pitchers Ask Too Much; May Be Sold

BECAUSE they demanded salaries deemed to be exorbitant, "Shufflin Phil" Douglas and Jesse Barnes, twirlers who figured prominently in the recent world series by winning two games each have been placed on the market by the New York Giants. The Giants prefer to get other players in trade for the two moundmen, it is declared, and are dickering with several National League organisations. Douglas and Barnes demanded $20,000 each for the coming season, according to current reports.

Best Ponies Are Entered In March Handicap Race At Kiangwan Tomorrow

Steeplechase Handicap Also A Classy Event; The Card Is A Good One

The 85th meeting of the International Recreation Club to be held at Kiangwan Saturday provides a variety of racing. Some of Shanghai's best ponies are listed as starters; griffins and non winners are given plenty of chance; conditions are nicely arranged to make the racing good.

The program lists a mile and quarter event for novices to be ridden by jockeys who have not won more than five races; a five-furlong sprint for all China ponies; a mile and a quarter cup affair for Griffins of 1922; an open steeplechase handicap to two miles in which most of the best local jumpers are entered; a mile run for all China ponies; another for Griffins of 1922; a selling plate at three quarters of a mile; a handicap at a mile and a quarter with many first class ponies entered and two consolation races, one at seven furlongs and another at a mile and a half.

The March handicap, the eighth race at a mile and a quarter will undoubtedly furnish the best running of the afternoon. Trustland carries top weight, for the race, 157 lbs., with Every Time, Old Bill and Maresfield next in line. The ponies mentioned together with Mazurek and Association, the late Stancliffe which ran so well last year also are to be considered for the event.

The sprint, the second race, has thirty ponies entered including such fast ones as Jet, a winner last week; Pennyfield, Jason, and the youngster from the Winsome and Hasty's stable which started so slowly and finished so fast last week—The Robin. Jet will undoubtedly be the favorite for the event, though the other ponies mentioned, with Typhoon and Twenty-two Carat may be in the running.

The steeplechase handicap which will be run two miles has some classy ponies entered. Petersfield carries top weight, a factor at the distance. The pony is slated for 169 pounds. His stable mates, Finchfield and Fatsfield, and Djemnah and Old Bill appear to be next fancied by the handicapper. The race however is an open one. Wild Chance, a winner last week and The Prelate also are worthy of attention.

The first saddling bell tomorrow will be rung at 1:00 p.m. Special trains will be run to the track leaving the city at 11:50 a.m., 12:20 p.m and 1:15 p.m. Motor cars will leave the Central Garage from Hongkong road on a one-minute service after noon.

PRISON SENTENCE IS SUSPENDED IN ARMSTRONG CASE

Defendant, However, Is Ordered To Pay Fine And Sign Peace Bond

Sentence of two days imprisonment that was imposed upon Mr. G. T. Armstrong after he had been convicted in the court of U. S Commissioner F. J. Schuhl on a charge of assaulting a ricsha coolie was suspended yesterday by Commissioner Schuhl. This action was taken by the court on a motion filed by Mr. Armstrong's attorneys, Judge D. R. Williams and Mr. Paul Falson, but in granting the motion Commissioner Schuhl directed that the fine of $50 that was also imposed and the payment of $15 to the injured ricsha boy should be paid and further Mr. Armstrong was ordered to give bond on his own recognizance to keep the peace for a period of six months.

In ruling on the motion Commissioner Schuhl clearly set forth the position of the court and the policy it will follow in cases of the kind.

COURT'S RULING

"The purpose of my decision in this case,,, Commissioner Schuhl said "was, besides the infliction of punishment to emphasize the fact that this Court will not tolerate such acts by American Citizens, as led to the defendant's appearance before me. And further to demonstrate that this Court functions as much to protect Chinese as Americans appearing before it.

"In the administration of justice this Court takes no account of the nationalities of the parties before it, and regards the assault in this case just as serious as if it had been committed on the body of an American Citizen.

"It seems necessary again to lay stress on the fact that no American citizen, no matter what is his complaint, has any right to take the law into his own hands. The American Court will not protect Americans who act in this country as they would not dare to act in their own.

The publicity given the case and the consequent suffering imposed upon the defendant have served the ends of justice as well as if he had actually undergone the two days imprisonment.

"The Court, however, is not prepared entirely to remit the sentence of imprisonment, but the same will be suspended conditional upon the defendant paying the fine heretofore imposed and entering a bond of his own recognizance in the sum of $500 to keep the peace for a period of 6 months.'

SPASM VIRTUE

In presenting his argument to the court Judge Williams declared that the offense in the case was one committed every day on the streets of Shanghai and he referred cautically to what he termed a "spasm of virtue" that has overtaken the public in connection with the case.

"In asking the Court to remit the two days sentence we do not seek to condone the offense of the defendant," Judge Williams said. "He admits that he committed an offense and should be punished, but we believe that the compensation of $15 for the ricsha coolie (who doubtless has gone on his way rejoicing) and the fine of $50, under all the circumstances of the case, and particularly the subsequent development, should be sufficient punishment.

"As the Court knows, penalties are inflicted by a Court for two reasons, one as punishment for the offense, and the other as a warning to the public not to commit like transgressions. Developments in this case will satisfy the Court that the defendant has suffered infinitely more, mentally and financially, than was ever contemplated by the Court in passing sentence.

"Certain elements in this community inspired by a sudden and rather mysterious spasm of virtue and taking advantage of the sentence have heaped criticism upon the defendant with an unsparing hand for an offense that can be witnessed almost daily on Shanghai streets, and an effort apparently is being made, and it may succeed, to make life unbearable to the defendant and his family in Shanghai.

AMPLE WARNING

"Certainly the attitude of the Shanghai press has been such as to furnish ample warning to the general public to turn the other cheek when a ricsha coolie inspires wrath. Now we do not criticise the press of Shanghai for their missionary effort on behalf of coolies. All we would urge is that in their crusade they regard the entire field of possible effort and not limit themselves to the specific case of this defendant.

"The Court lives at the Astor House in front of whose portals they have a Sikh policeman. Two days ago I saw that policeman kick a ricsha coolie clear across the driveway. Why? Simply because he had trespassed upon the portals of that institution. If this Court should adjourn to the front of the Astor House it might see the same thing happen several times during the day.

"The other night while waiting for a car on Nanking Road a beggar came up to me, but unfortunately for him, a Sikh policeman came at the same time. He kicked, cuffed and beat that crippled beggar for half a block.

"I am citing these cases simply to indicate that if a jail sentence is to be the penalty for beating a ricsha coolie in Shanghai the jails will have to be enlarged and the chances are that within 24 hours the city would be without a police force because on our street corners they often beat ricsha coolies if they overstep the boundary line."

ANOTHER PARALLEL

Judge Williams then cited imprisonment for debt as another crusade that could be well undertaken by the press and virtuous public of Shanghai.

"Imprisonment for owing money was outlawed 230 years ago," he said, "and yet in Shanghai today there are possibly hundreds of Chinese in jail because they cannot pay judgment in a civil suit. If the press of Shanghai wants to continue its crusade in behalf of the lowly coolie I suggest they look into that. I also suggest that they detail one of their reporters to stand outside the Astor House or at some of our street corners for awhile and see that public condemnation of such practices be made general.

"This is not an excuse for this defendant's misdemeanor, but we do say and insist that he should not be made the 'goat' in this community for the sins of the entire community."

Assistant United States Attorney H. R. Snyder did not oppose the defense's motion and Commissioner Schuhl ordered the sentence suspended.

IMPORTANT NOTICE

We beg to notify our customers and the public that owing to the costs of productions on Beef and Mutton have recently risen towards 70% high, we are extremely hard to support our business and to preserve our capitals. In addition, we also suffer the difficulties for high costs of living and for several other reasons, In order to offset our painful conditions, we are obliged to increase our rates 30% higher on all goods, effective April 1, 1922, for which we ask excuse from our customers. Those having contracts with us are also required to make suitable increase in our rates.

We declare this matter by advertising in the Sin Wan Pao, Shun Pao, North China Daily News and in this paper.

Chita Captive Tells Of White Atrocities

(Dalta News Agency)

Chita, March 20.—A soldier of the People's Revolutionary Army captured and imprisoned by the Kappelists in Habarovsk has been released since the re-occupation of the town by the army. He reveals the methods applied by the Kappelists in making inquiries, saying that prisoners suspected of knowing the location of different parts of the people's army and their armaments were subjected to tortures of various kinds in case of refusal to give the desired information.

A favorite proceeding was to seat a stripped victim on a red-hot stove. Lest anything should be known of these tortures the half-dead prisoners after being tortured were taken out from the prisons at night time and sunk under the ice of the Amur River.

A recently arrested officer and agent of Semenoff and Ungern, named Nechaeff, has been tried at Troitso-Savsk. The inquiry disclosed his bloody past of torturing, whipping to death and shooting an immense number of people. The court sentenced him to be shot.

Coal Market

Messrs. Wheelock and Company write as follows in their coal market report of yesterday:

Japan Coal:—We have again to report another dull fortnight on this market with no enquiry worth speaking of from any side—arrivals of coal and deliveries under contract are going on steadily. The shipping strike in Hongkong, which has just been settled, had naturally affected deliveries to a certain extent but these are now being resumed as steamers gradually return to their normal trade routes.

Fushun Coal:—No change.

Fuchung Anthracite:—Demand and deliveries continue steady, otherwise nothing fresh of importance.

Kaiping Coal:—The market is active and as, following the strike, Hongkong is monolopising a large share of available coal supplies as well as tonnage. It is anticipated that arrivals here in the near future will be small. In sympathy with the increased demand throughout the East prices are well maintained.

Singapore Rubber Auctions

Singapore, March 8, 1922

During the past week London advanced to 8⅛d. on account of rumors arising that restrictions of output would be introduced in some form or other, and "shorts" consequently being anxious to cover. New York advanced in sympathy to 14¾ cents, but both markets have since receded, London being this morning quoted at 8d. and New York at 14 cents. The local market has followed the movements of the consuming markets closely, but is now very steady at the lower level.

At the weekly auction today there were catalogued for sale 761 tons, of which 613 tons were offered and 527 sold.

Prices, realised, show practically no change on the week, and the demand was good all-round.

Awarded Standard Ribbed Smoked Sheet fetched 25½ cents, which figure marks no change.

Some lots in cases sold at 26 cents.

The demand for Awarded Standard parcels and Sheet equal to Standard was very good, the later grade selling at the above figure.

Off Quality Sheet found ready buyers.

Two lots of Awarded Standard 1st Latex Crepe were sold, fetching 25½ cents. This grade and Crepe equal to Standard sold to an interested market.

Off Color Latex and Bottled Crepes were easily disposed of.

Brown, Dark and Darky Crepes were wanted at prices similar to last week's.

Japanese 'Lease' Fish Concessions

(Daily News Agency)

Tokio, March 18.—The Japanese command in the Saghalien Island has begun to offer fishing districts for lease, pretending to be acting under the fishing convention of 1907. The fact is that contrary to the conditions of the convention, the Japanese are leasing out districts belonging to the Nikolaevsk town and different village communities which cannot be and have never been leased before.

The Japanese fishmongers are endeavoring to exclude Russian authorities completely from the management of the fisheries; they do not get certificates from the Russian consulate in Hakodate nor ask it for vise. They also ignore the Russian superintendence of the fisheries.

Some Japanese government officials have proposed to buy the whole lot of the fishing districts from Vladivostok and then distribute them for lease among Japanese fishmongers.

Reallocation Of Customs Funds Demanded

(Note: The following is written for The China Press by Mr. C. J. Fox, Editor of The North China Star, who is now in Washington):

WHEN the special international conference, provided for by resolution of the recent Washington Conference, meets in the near future in Shanghai to undertake the revision of China's tariff rates in order to bring them up to an effective five percent ad valorem duty on all imports, one of the many complicated situations it will be called upon to remedy is the present virtual monopoly of the Hongkong and Shanghai Banking Corporation as depository and custodian of the customs funds of the Chinese Maritime Customs Service.

"The undue power to certain institutions by reason of these government deposits" was brought up for discussion in the Committee on Pacific and Far Eastern Questions at the Washington Conference, largely through the efforts of Mr. Odagiri, director of the Yokohama Specie Bank, who represented the Japanese Government on the subcommittee to which the problem of China's tariff was referred. Mr. Odagiri's suggestion received the support of the French, Italian, Belgian, Netherlands, American and Chinese delegates. Only the British and Portuguese failed to express approval.

According to treaty stipulations, it is agreed that as long as British trade with China exceeds that of any other foreign country, the Inspector General of Customs shall be a British subject. After the revolutionary troubles in 1911, it was decided that funds from the Maritime Customs pledged for foreign loans should, for reasons of safety, be deposited in foreign banks, and as a result the great bulk of the funds, which in 1921 amounted to about 54,500,000 taels, was deposited in the Hongkong and Shanghai Banking Corporation. When this measure, adopted during the troubled days of the Revolution of 1911, began to show signs of becoming a permanent custom, the opposition of the other banks in China, both foreign and Chinese was aroused.

Mr. Odagiri, in bringing the matter to the attention of the Washington Conference, said in a statement to the sub-committee considering China's tariff:

"Japan not only has no objection to, but welcomes, the proposal that the existing customs system of China should not be disturbed. In the meantime she must express the hope, in view of the important position which her Chinese trade occupies in the entire foreign trade of China and Japan's resulting large contribution to the Chinese customs revenues, that a fair and suitable adjustment may be effected with the above fact in view in regard to the future operations of the customs system; that is to say, concerning such matters as the custodian banks and the proportion of foreign nationals to be employed in the customs staff. We desire to make it clear, however, that this is not proposed as a condition of our acceptance of this agreement, but only as a frank expression of our desire. It is hoped that such special conference as is mentioned, should, in its deliberations upon the conditions involving questions such as custody and supervision of tariff revenues, take into consideration the above expressed desire of Japan."

And then the notes reported by the secretary general's office added:

"The delegates of France, Italy, Belgium and Holland associated themselves with the Japanese delegation."

The subject was brought up for discussion by Senator Underwood, who was chairman of the subcommittee, at a meeting of the full committee on February 1. What happened in the committee meeting on this important subject, is described as follows in the official minutes:

Senator Underwood said that at the time the subcommittee considering the customs revenue of China was holding its sittings, a question arose which met with the general approbation of the members of the subcommittee, but was not reported to the full committee. Since that time it had been suggested that the chairman ought to call the matter to the attention of the full committee in order that the record of the full committee might contain the statement. It related to the question of the deposit of moneys collected under the customs revenues in the banks of China.

After the treaties were made in relation to the indemnities growing out of what was called the Boxer movement, it was provided that certain portions of the Chinese customs revenue should be set apart to meet the interest and amortisation charges on the bonds issued at that time, and those customs revenues were deposited entirely or almost entirely, in the Hongkong-Shanghai Bank and the Russo-Asiatic Bank. The amount of those revenues had been great and, of course, was of great value to those institutions as compared to the other banks in China. He thought it was admitted that the allocation of those funds under the agreement made at the time of the issues of these bonds that he referred to a moment ago was a matter of contract and that portion of the revenue derived must continue to be deposited according to the understanding or the contract at the time.

Of course, the free revenue above the charge for amortisation and interest on these bonds was at the disposal of the Chinese Government.

As a matter of fact, he thought on account of the revenue being collected paying less than 5 per cent effective there had not been much of a balance sheet on the side of the Chinese Government but under the resolution passed to make this 5 percent effective that revenue would be largely increased. Of course, so far as the revenue was concerned, that was allocated to this particular purpose; that is still controlled by the original allocation and the terms of it; but as to the balance, it was free revenue for disposition in any bank of course controlled primarily by the Chinese Government.

Senator Underwood wished to say that at the same time he also stated that he recognised the fact that the revenues that had already been allocated to the Chinese contracts would not be changed because they were part of an existing contract, but other additional revenues were free to be deposited in such banks as could be determined.

He thought that so far as the present 5 percent tariff was concerned, there could be no question that that which had been allocated to the payment of the interest on the bonds already issued, could not be deposited with the banks named before. As to the balance of that 5 percent, it was free to be deposited in either bank when it was not needed, when it was turned over to the Chinese Government.

Now, as to the new revenue that was to be derived by the additional surtax of 2½ percent, that would be in the control and under the determination of the special conference when it met, and that conference, in determining the putting into effect of this 2½ percent surtax would have the right and power with the consent of China of course, to a reallocation of these funds in the various solvent banks in China.

He did not think it was a question that this conference could settle; he thought it was far better to leave it to the special conference that had already been ordered to handle the customs tariff, because power with the consent of China, they would be in touch with the situation, they would know better what to do.

Senator Underwood wished in conclusion to say that though he had no doubt that the two banks that had handled in the past the revenues of China, had done so efficiently and in an honorable way and effectively, yet for the large amount of revenue collected for governmental purposes in China to continue to go through separate banking institutions and all the other banks of China be deprived of deposits of that kind, would naturally lead to misunderstandings-not serious misunderstandings but it did not appear to be an equal and fair distribution of the moneys involved. It gave undue power to certain institutions by reason of these government deposits. Now Senator Underwood did not think it would be wise for this conference to take any further action in the matter; but he thought he could say it was the sentiment of the subcommittee that, in the reallocation of these additional funds, there should be an opportunity for other solvent banks of the various nations sitting at this board to have a reasonable amount of the deposits derived from these revenues. So far as he understood it, he thought that that sentiment met with the approval of the representatives of the Chinese Government on the subcommittee, and he hoped it met with the entire approval of the Chinese Delegation.

Dr. Koo asked if he might say a word in connection with the subject that had been brought up. He would try not to detain his colleagues any longer than was necessary.

Concerning the question of the deposit of customs revenue in the foreign banks in China, he did not know that the subject might be brought up, so he did not have the papers with him; but speaking from memory, he would like to point out to the committee the circumstances under which this question had arison. Prior to the revolution of 1911 the customs revenue that was collected in the ports was all depocited in the so-called Chinese Customs Bank under the supervision of Chinese authorities, and the customs administration itself did not have the handling of the money.

They issued receipts, clearance only on the production by the merchant of the receipts issued by the Customs bank certifying that the customs duties had been paid. As the time arrived from month to month for the payment and discharge of obligations incurred for the Boxed indemnity and also for the foreign debts, the money was paid over. That arrangement proved very satisfactory, and there was now the testimony of the Inspector General of the Customs on record that that agreement would work very satisfactorily, and that there never was a single instance in which there was any difficulty in meeting the foreign obligations promptly and on the day they were due.

In the course of the revolution of 1911 disturbances broke out in various parts of China, and lest there might be delays or interference with the discharging of the foreign obligations, it was proposed that the Customs revenues should be deposited temporarily in certain foreign banks to which Senator Underwood made reference a little while ago. While that arrangement was intended to be merely provisional, however, the practice of depositing customs revenues in those designated foreign banks continued. It had this effect on the commercial and financial situation in the various cities of importance, that prior to the revolution, when money was deposited in the Chinese Customs Bank, of course it flowed into the various channels of the market to meet commercial and industrial needs in each community, and in that way the money market was always more or less easy and there were very few occasions when crises of a financial character arose.

Since the new arrangement was introduced, however, of course all the customs revenue went into the foreign banks and the money was now no longer quickly accessible to Chinese customers for legitimate purposes of commerce and trade as it had been heretofore, with the result that from time to time constant anxiety prevailed in the Chinese commerce and trading communities because money was scarce and tight. Therefore, the Chinese bankers had made the suggestion more than once, and had drawn the attention of the Chinese Government to the fact, that some steps should be taken to modify the present provisional arrangement.

Mr. Koo, therefore, wished not only to associate himself with Senator Underwood in his suggestion but to add that when the time came for considering the question on the reallocation, if in the opinion of the representatives at that time conditions were not yet such as to permit a complete reversion to the former practice, at least a part of the deposits should be allocated to those Chinese banks which were generally recognised as being sound and solvent.

Baron de Cartier said that before the committee adjourned he wished to express his agreement to the proposal of Senator Underwood.

World Politics

(February Bulletin of The National City Bank)

The foreign situation has been disturbed during the past month by the resignation of the French premier, and the selection as his successor of M. Poincare, who apparently is less disposed to work harmoniously with the British premier and more unyielding toward Germany. It is quite probable, however, that French internal politics has had much to do with the change, and that no serious disagreement with England will result.

The German government has obtained from the Reparations Commission a temporary respite upon the payment due January 15, pending the submission of new proposals, meanwhile making partial payments. British public opinion upon the subject of reparations is evidently influenced by impatience to get over the existing stagnation in trade, and recognition of the fact that the heavy German exports that are necessary for the reparation payments are bound to be a disturbing factor in trade, wherever they are sent. The following comment from the January Letter of Barclay's Bank, London, is probably expressive of business sentiment in England:

"The position should be faced as one affecting the whole world, and if the preservation of the industrial equilibrium, rather than the receipt of maximum reparation payments, is the ideal decided upon, it must be achieved by limiting reparation payments to such goods as will not, in this or in any other country, create congestion and bring about a break in values. The prosperity of any industrial nation is dependent upon the prosperity of its customers and we can no more afford to destroy the industries of our customers than we can afford to destroy our own."

The attitude of the British public is indicated also by the action of Lloyd George in proposing a conference upon economic conditions to be held at Genoa and to which Germany and Russia are invited to send delegates. The British premier is outspoken and emphatic in his desire to promote peace, production and trade.

Whether or not the United States will be represented at this conference is not determined. The European countries naturally are very desirous that it should be, and upon general principles it would seem to be desirable, but the position of delegates from the United States would be exceedingly difficult, for the reason that much would be expected and they would be in position to promise practically nothing. Some good usually results from all conferences, but it must be recognised that in the present state of public opinion a delegation from the United States would have very little latitude for engagements as to the policies of this country. In regard to the existing indebtedness it could only point to the refunding act which probably will be passed in the next few weeks, and which probably will leave little open to negotiation. As to trade relations, they will be fixed on our side by the Fordney bill without much regard to any representations that our delegates at the conference might make. As to loans or financial assistance of any kind, there is no likelihood of organised effort in the United States until Europe has gone some distance in the settlement of its controversies and in putting its finance in order.

AGE is no indication of eye condition. Many aged people do not need to wear glasses, whereas many children need them at an early age.

Sometimes children, otherwise bright and intelligent, are backward in school on account of defective eyesight which is entirely unsuspected.

Let us test the eyes of your children. Be sure that you know whether or not their eyes are all right.

OUR WEATHER!

(On Sunday last the thermometer ran rapidly up to a figure not far from 80.° Yesterday the mercury flirted with 70.)

Some days the mercury will rise
To points where we're perspiring,
At then at Freezing Point it lies,
And we require more firing;
With wind and rain, sleet, snow and sun,
We need a hide of leather,
A chest of steel,
A head of deal,
To stand the Shanghai weather.

AND LADY DUFF GORDON IS IN DIFFICULTIES!

A delightful story of General Ivanov, the famous Russian soldier, is related by General Sir Alfred Knox, who was recently a visitor to Shanghai, in his book 'With the Russian Army, 1914-17.'

His chief theme was the growth of luxury and people's extravagance. Once, pointing to a piece of furniture that a British artisan would scorn, he said, "Fifty years ago we had nothing like this; everything was rough and ready without finish."

When he was young, women wore no hats, and he deplored present spendthrift habits. "Nowadays," he declared, "women are not contented unless they have a new haf every year."

A THOUGHT

A thought took flight in the night time,
On tremulous wings it flew;
The veil from my eye it lifted
And brought me a smile from you.

* * *

A soft wind opened my latfice
And bore on its warm, sweet breath,
The joy of a love unending
That soars past the gates of death.

GEE-WHIZ!

A teacher in a rural district was instructing a class of small boys in modern spelling.

"Now," she said. "The word 'wagon' should have only one 'g.'"

Little Johnny, a farmer's son, promptly jumped up in his place.

"Please, miss," he cried, in a shrill voice, "if it is a pair-horse wagon it must have two 'gees.'"

THEN THE KING LAUGHED

A new story is going the rounds about one of our royal princesses.

When she was about eight years old, her father entered a room where she was sitting, and seeing her deeply immersed in a somewhat bulky volume, he asked her what she was reading.

"It's an English history book," answered the little princess, "and it tells me all about Perkin Warbeck."

"And who was Perkin Warbeck?" said her father, wishing to see how much she remembered and understood of the knowledge she was trying to assimilate.

"He was a pretender," was the reply. "He pretended he was the son of a king. But he wasn't; he was the son of respectable parents."

TASTY

"What was that meat so good and sweet?"
The cannibal chief asked his mate.
His partner picked his teeth and said:
"'Twas a sweet girl grad-u-ate!"

REJECTED!

The editor gazed maliciously at the shabby poet and then at the equally shabby poem.

"Man alive!" he demanded. "Do you call this poetry?"

"Her eyes are blue as skies,
Her teeth just like the stars.'

"How on earth can a woman's teeth be like stars?"

The poet was very humble and bowed before the storm.

"It is quite true, sir," he said. "She has false teeth, and, like the stars, they come out at night."

TEETHING WITHOUT TEARS
A NEW LIGHT ON BABY-REARING

It is a recognized fact that Babies—and in fact all Children—need medicines of their own, and that most baby-medicines do more harm in the long run than good. Also great mistakes are often made in measuring doses for tiny patients. Baby's Own Tablets, the Canadian medicine for Children of all ages, meet every difficulty. They are guaranteed to be absolutely harmless and free from opiates. They are so soft that they fall into powder at very slight pressure, forming an ideal dose for Infants.

Baby's Own Tablets are pleasant to the taste; slightly laxative, comforting and digestive—a specific for feverishness, constipation, diarrhoea and worms. At the time of teething they act like magic, giving painless sleep and easy teething.

Obtainable from chemists, also at 60 cents the vial, post free, promptly jumped up in his place. from the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., 96 Szechuen Road, Shanghai.

Shanghai Land Investment Co. Meets

The annual meeting of the shareholders of the Shanghai Land Investment Company, Limited, was held yesterday morning at the offices of the agents, Messrs. Gibb, Livingstone and Co. There were present: Messrs. E. C. Pearce (Chairman), C. G. E. Mackie, H. E. Arnold, H. W. Lester (Directors), P. Peeble (Manager), A. S. Campbell, Wright, A. L. Anderson, P. O. Liddell, C. M. Bain, C. C. Stevenson, S. Yale, A. J. Dawe, A. Saker and Carlson.

The Chairman's speech follows:

"Gentlemen: The reports and accounts have been in your hands for some days and I will, with your permission, take them as read.

"When I addressed you last year I outlined the housing problem as it appeared to your Directors. Since that date, although the demand for houses and offices is not so persistent, the position is not sufficiently changed to warrant me taking up your time with further remarks on the general aspect of the question.

"As far as the Company is concerned, we still find it difficult to build houses to let at moderate rents, which will give us an adequate return on our capital; and as a consequence, our building activities during the year have been restricted to the completion of the Kinnear Road Housing scheme, and the commencement of a further addition to our Dixwell Road extension houses. That this conservative policy has not been unprofitable is shown by the fact that setting aside profits on sales, the year shows the best working account in the history of the company.

"I ventured to forecast last time I addressed you that the year we now have under review would show some further increase in rentals; the accounts will show you that this has occurred. That the increase is not greater is the result of our sales of property; unfortunately one cannot sell developed property and retain the rents. The sales we completed, though very satisfactory to the company, naturally decreased our rent roll to the extent of some Tls. 20,000 for the year.

DETAILS SALES

"These sales include No. 2 Avenue du Roi Albert and No. 7 Jinkee Road, the remainder of Jessfield Estate No. 20, an undeveloped piece of property near the Connaught Road and Jessfield Road corner, and another small lot of undeveloped land in the Eastern District.

"I last year sounded a note of warning that your Directors with the view to stabilising the dividend as far as possible and to putting the Company's finances on a still sounder footing, would deal in a conservative way with these profits on sales.

"The policy your directors have adopted in this matter is to write back to the Estate as the cost, an amount which invested at 8 percent will give an annual return equal to the rents of the property sold.

"In addition to this they now recommend that a further sum of Tls. 150,000 be placed to improvements and renewals account from which can be drawn from year to year sums to meet any improvements of or renewals to our property which may be found necessary or expedient.

"I feel sure that this will meet with your unanimous approval. As a set off against sales we have purchased during the year about 26 mow of undeveloped land on Avenue Foch which will, with the exception of a few graves and a small piece of road frontage, complete our holding on that Road from East of Avenue du Roi Albert to the west side of our Zang Pang Estate. This land we propose to hold for development should building become a more attractive proposition or to sell if a favorable opportunity occurs.

ANNOUNCES BIG PURCHASE

"Since closing the books we have acquired a property very well developed with Chinese hongs on the Yangtszepoo Road at a cost of aproximately four and a half lakhs—this property, while giving us immediately a fair return, has, we believe, great possibilities of future improvements. These purchases have the effect of bringing our sales and purchases towards a balance and I need hardly assure you that your Directors are satisfied that the exchange is for the immediate and ultimate benefit of the Company.

"I informed you from this chair last year that we had some fairly heavy repairs to undertake, and that the expenditure under this heading would show an increase and I feel it is satisfactory to be able to report to you that although a large proportion of these have been carried out our repair bills have not, as I shall have presently occasion to point out, been unduly increased. We have still in view a good deal of outside painting and other repairs necessary for the upkeep of our properties, but we do not anticipate that the amount to be spent during the coming year will exceed that of the last.

"During the year the rebuilding of the Chinese houses on our Broadway No. 10 Estate has been taken in hand. This estate was developed twenty years ago with a cheap form of Chinese bungalow and although this met the demand of the neighborhood at the time it has recently become out of date. The buildings required such a considerable sum to be spent to put them into good repair that it was decided to demolish them and rebuild with a good class of Chinese hongs. The new houses are now almost ready for occupation and all are let at satisfactory rents. One fifth of the cost rebuilding will be debited to improvements and renewals account this year; the net result will be an improved return from the Estate on the Capital Cost.

FOUR-YEAR PROGRAM

"A similar process will now have to be taken in hand with Hanbury Road estate. The houses on this estate are from 30 to 35 years old, and they have now reached the end of their economic life, and it is no longer profitable to retain them. The first block will be pulled down, and a better class of house built during the current year, and in each succeeding year one or two blocks will be reconstructed. The rebuilding of the whole estate will be spread over a period of perhaps four years.

"It will perhaps be remembered that at the annual general meeting in March 1919 when the chairman outlined our depreciation of buildings policy it was pointed out that no provision would be made for depreciation on Chinese buildings, and the reason for this decision was given.

"Your Directors are still of the opinion that it is, at present, unnecessary to provide for such depreciation but in view of the fact that building costs are at resent unduly high it is proposed to assist the rebuilding costs from improvements and renewals account. In regard to the Hanbury Road rebuilding to be carried out this year two-thirds of the cost will be debited to capital account and one-third to improvements and renewals reserve. This reserve will thus perform one of the duties for which it was formed, viz., to act as a subsidiary depreciation fund.

DEBENTURES REDEEMED

"During the year Tls. 250,000 of our 6 percent Debentures and Tls. 100,000 5 percent Debentures matured and were redeemed. Since closing the books a further Tls. 400,000 of time-expired 6 percent Debentures have been paid off. This completes the redemption of the second million of our original debentures. We have no further commitments for debenture redemption until 1925 when an issue of Tls. 250,000 will have to be redeemed. From that date we are again clear until 1929. It is to be hoped that it will be possible to place debentures on the market at an reasonable and remunerative rate of interest before the debentures next falling due have to be met, and as our outstanding issues are very far below our authorisation, we propose to take advantage of a favorable market, should the opportunity offer.

"There is, I think, little I need say in reference to the accounts. They take exactly the same form as last year and I think you will agree that they show a very satisfactory position of affairs. On the debit side of working account charges are increased Tls. 2,833.99, due to passenger fare for staff on leave. Salaries are decreased Tls. 1,162.24. This account in 1920 included acting pay for the Assistant Manager during the Manager's leave.

COMPRADORE AND STAFF

"Although this item shows an increase of Tls. 2,862.39, there is an actual saving, in practice, to the Company. During the year Sing Ding Huan after 30 years' loyal service with the Company as compradore, resigned on account of increasing years and failing health. His place has been taken by S. Yale who has been in the Company's services first as shroff and recently as assistant compradore for a number of years. Under the new arrangements with the compradore, the Company pay the entire Chinese staff thus accounting for the increase shown in the accounts and against this a fixed and limted difference on exchange from dollars to taels and the cover for loss on small and bad money has been arranged—with a net result that the compradore and staff service is costing the Company considerably less than under the old arrangements.

INTEREST ON DEBENTURES

"Interest on debentures is decreased Tls. 13,920.00 due to the redemption of debentures during the year, and in addition to this the balance of mortgage interest over Bank overdraft is increased by Tls. 4,739.57, due partly to the interest saved as a result of sales of property, and in part by the increase in mortgage interest being productive ofr the whole year. The other items on this side of the account need no comment. Gross rents are increased Tls. 29,300.07. Except for sales of property this increase would have been approximately Tls. 50,000. Outgoings are increased Tls. 13,234.36. The principal items being an increase on land tax of Tls. 7,924.00, and repairs are increased Tls. 5,106.00.

"The balance of working account is increased by Tls. 27,554.09.

"Profit and loss account requires no further explanation. I have already dealt with method of calculating and the disposal of the profit on sales of property. The profit of sale of shares is, of course, a non-recurring item, and is the outcome of circumstances brought about by the war.

"The only items on the balance sheet which are not sufficiently clear in themselves or which are not dealt with in the report are:

"Sundry creditors. This comprises the Debentures Interest accruing at the end of the year, and

"Sundry debtors, comprising mortgage interest and rent payable, but uncollected at the end of the year. Practically the whole of this has since been collected. There is, I think, no other matter on which I need comment except to express the Directors' appreciation of the good work done by the Staff during the year. It is on their endeavors that the success of the Company so largely depends."

"The accounts were proposed by the Chairman and seconded by Mr. Mackie and unanimously adopted.

Messrs. C. H. Arnold and H. W. Lester were confirmed in their appointments as Directors. Proposed by Mr. Bain, seconded by Mr. Dawe.

Mr. Mackie was re-elected Director, proposed by Mr. Anderson, seconded by Mr. Liddell.

Messrs. Lowe, Bingham and Matthews were appointed auditors for the ensuing year at a remuneration of Tls. 700, on the proposal of Mr. Anderson, seconded by Mr. Saker.

The bonus of ten percent to the staff was also confirmed by the meeting.

Financial And Commercial News

Exchange Fluctuations
Asia Banking Corporation

March 23, 1922

Spot bar silver was up ⅝d. and forward ¼d. in London yesterday.

The New York price advanced to 65½ cents, and the London-New York cross rate to 439¾.

The only changes in the official quotations here today were a rise in the Gold Dollar rate to 70½ and in the Yen rate to 67¾. Francs were dropped to 775 and Rupees to 251.

Our market today, while opening uncertain, became steadier as the day advanced.

In the morning business in Sterling was done at 3-2⅜ for March and 3-2¼ for May.

However, later in the day as high as 3-2⅝ for March and 3-2½ for April was done.

While these were the top rates, there were at all times sellers at 3-2½ for March and 3-2⅜ for April-May.

There were sellers of Gold Dollars at 72¼ for March and 72 for April.

There was little business doing but the market was quite steady.

China is reported to have bought silver in London yesterday, and the market there, as well as in New York, is reported as being steady.

Freight Market

Messrs. Wheelock and Company write as follows in their freight market report of yesterday:

The situation in our Outward Freight markets is as follows:

To United Kingdom and Continent:—There is a slightly improved enquiry for space for small parcels of general cargo for berth loading otherwise there is nothing of interest to report.

Coastwise:—Since last writing there has been a brisk demand for tonnage all over the China coast and rates are strong in all directions;—Newchwang is now open and it is expected that Antung will be clear for shipping towards the end of this month.
